

1 Follower Per Minute

Free Report by Mr. I (@bwsteam)

© 2009 Blogging With Success.
Contact Author

First of all, Thanks for downloading this report. Hope you like it.

If you have been living on earth for last few years/months/days and use internet, you must have heard about Twitter.

Twitter is growing rapidly and everyone is running to get the benefits. Dell made more than $2 Million only from sales via Twitter.

You can get traffic and money from Twitter. All you need is lot of followers.

How To Get More Twitter Followers?

I wish I had a small and simple answer for you. It's just like "How to make money blogging". There are thousands of answers and each has a different approach but most of them, well, don't work for most of us. In this report, I will talk about a method that is very simple(and small) but also very effective.

Are You Going To Talk About Buying Followers?

No!

First, as I promised, the method will be completely free. I won't ask you to sign up for any service or pay for anything else.

And secondly, I do not think you can "buy" "quality" followers. Most of the services will end up adding lot of bots as followers to your account who will never interact with you and will never click the links you tweet.

Why More Followers?

Depends on your goals! You may want to make money, you want to get more traffic or just recognition. No matter what your goals are, you need lot of followers.

Simply 100 or 200 followers won't do it(you will not even get accepted at Pay Per Tweet networks if you want to make money on twitter).

1 Follower Per Minute Method

This is a simple method with which you can get 1 follower for every minute you spend on twitter.

First, you need a niche(topic). Write down 2-3 keywords that are (very) common. For Blogging With Success, I chose "blogging tips", "wordpress help" and "blogging help". These are common and used very frequently.

Next, go to <http://search.twitter.com/> and enter the keyword.

Scan through the search results. If a tweet sounds interesting, visit owner's twitter profile and follow him.

After that, look for a relevant tweet or a question in his/her timeline. Once you see a good tweet, either ReTweet it or answer the question. This way you will get noticed and chances of you getting followed back will increase.

Maximizing Results

To maximize results from this method, keep the following tips in mind:

1. Ignore automatic posting services like twitterfeed and API. Clients like TweetDeck should be your prime target because your ReTweets or replies will get noticed fast.
2. Look for people having following-followers ratio less than 1. People with ratio more than 1 usually use auto following services and may not interact.
3. Keep your twitter account clean. To make sure that you do not follow more people than number of followers you have, periodically use services like Mutuality(it unfollows people who you are following but they don't follow you back, with exclusion list)

4. Do this regularly. 10-15 minutes per day is not a big deal.

Using this method, I was able to gain 50 followers in 5 days spending just 10-15 minutes per day! Now, I am sure you are not as lazy as me and will be able to spend at least 30 minutes daily and get great results.

Apart from getting more followers, I also got 2 Freelancing opportunities using the same method and made good cash!

Just try it for 20 minutes and you will yourself find out how powerful this method can be!

What Next?

.ReTweet about this report

Follow me on Twitter (@bwsteam)

Legal

Disclaimer

While I have made sure to be accurate about information provided in this report, I am not help to be responsible for any mistakes or damages caused by information in this report.

Copying

You are free to give this report to anyone as long as it is not changed. You can not sell this report or distribute as part of a package.

Credits

Report by Mr. I of Blogging With Success. Created using Q10 Editor and Open Office.org.